*Leaving yesterday behind, we seek a chance to be born again
To make a home of a place we've never been before
To live a life of freedom
To find a key for every door*

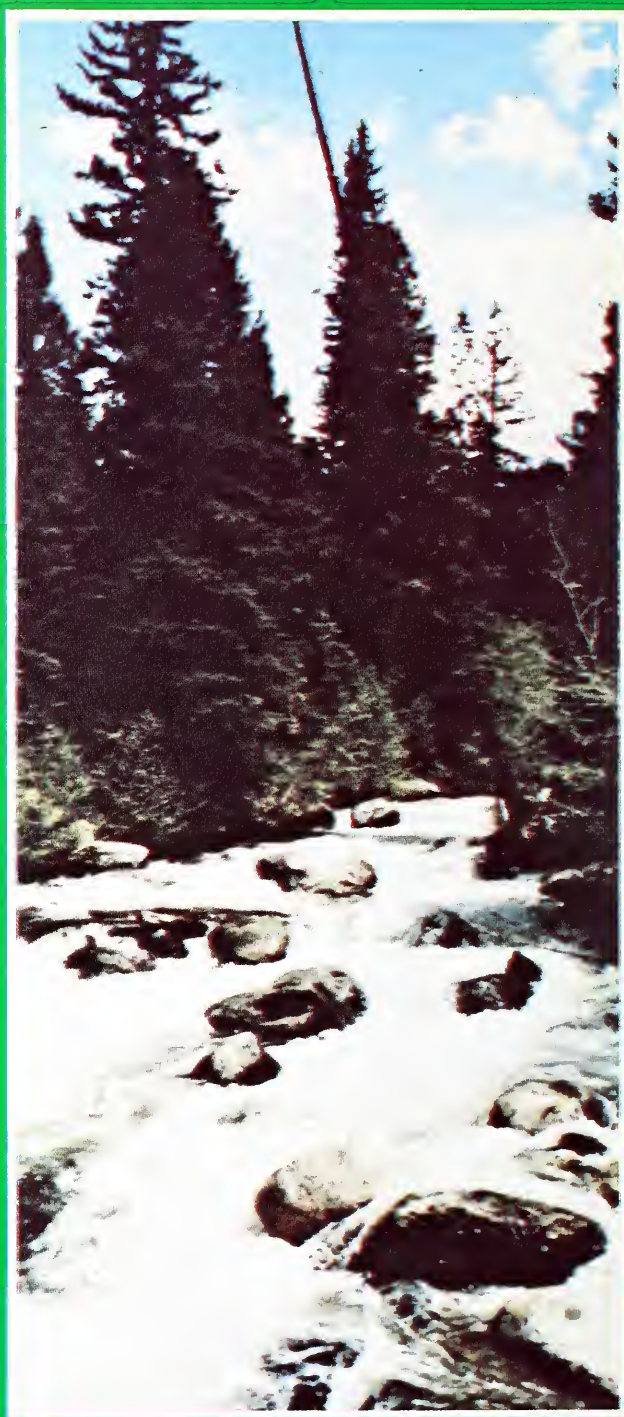

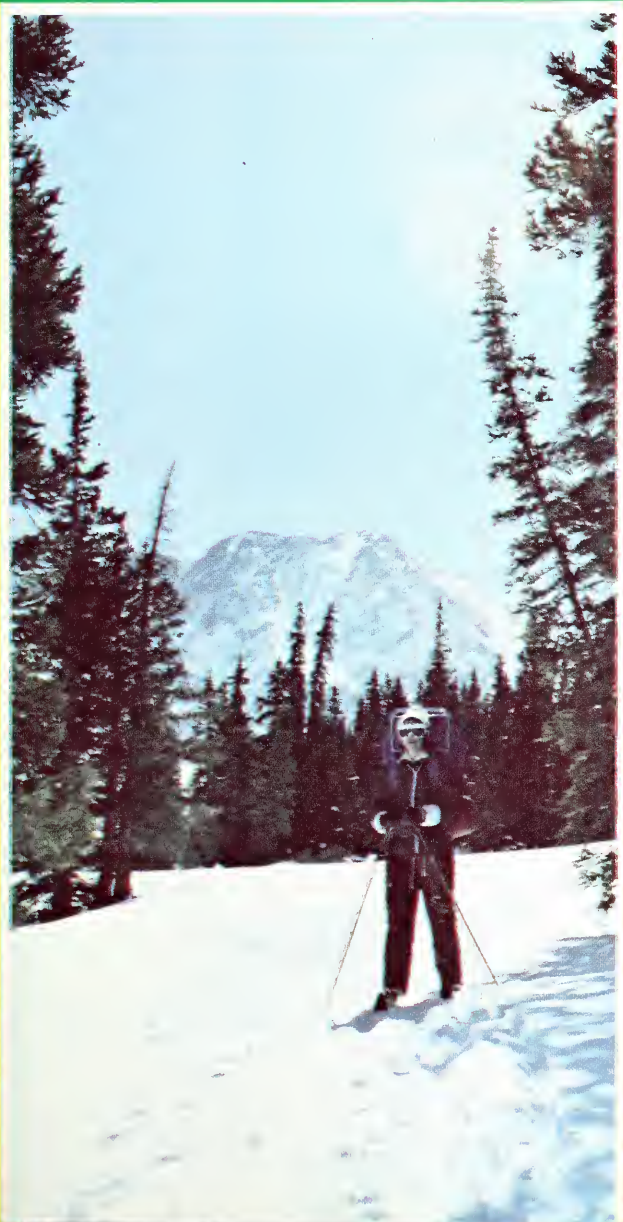

*We climb cathedral mountains
We see silver clouds below
We see everything as far as we can see
We lose friends but keep the memories*

*We walk in quiet solitude, in the forests and the streams
We try to touch the sun and fail but reach again
We talk to God and listen for a while
We try to turn inside ourselves to try understand*

*And so it is our lives are full of wonder
But our hearts still know
some fear
Of the simple things
we cannot comprehend
Of a world we do not know*

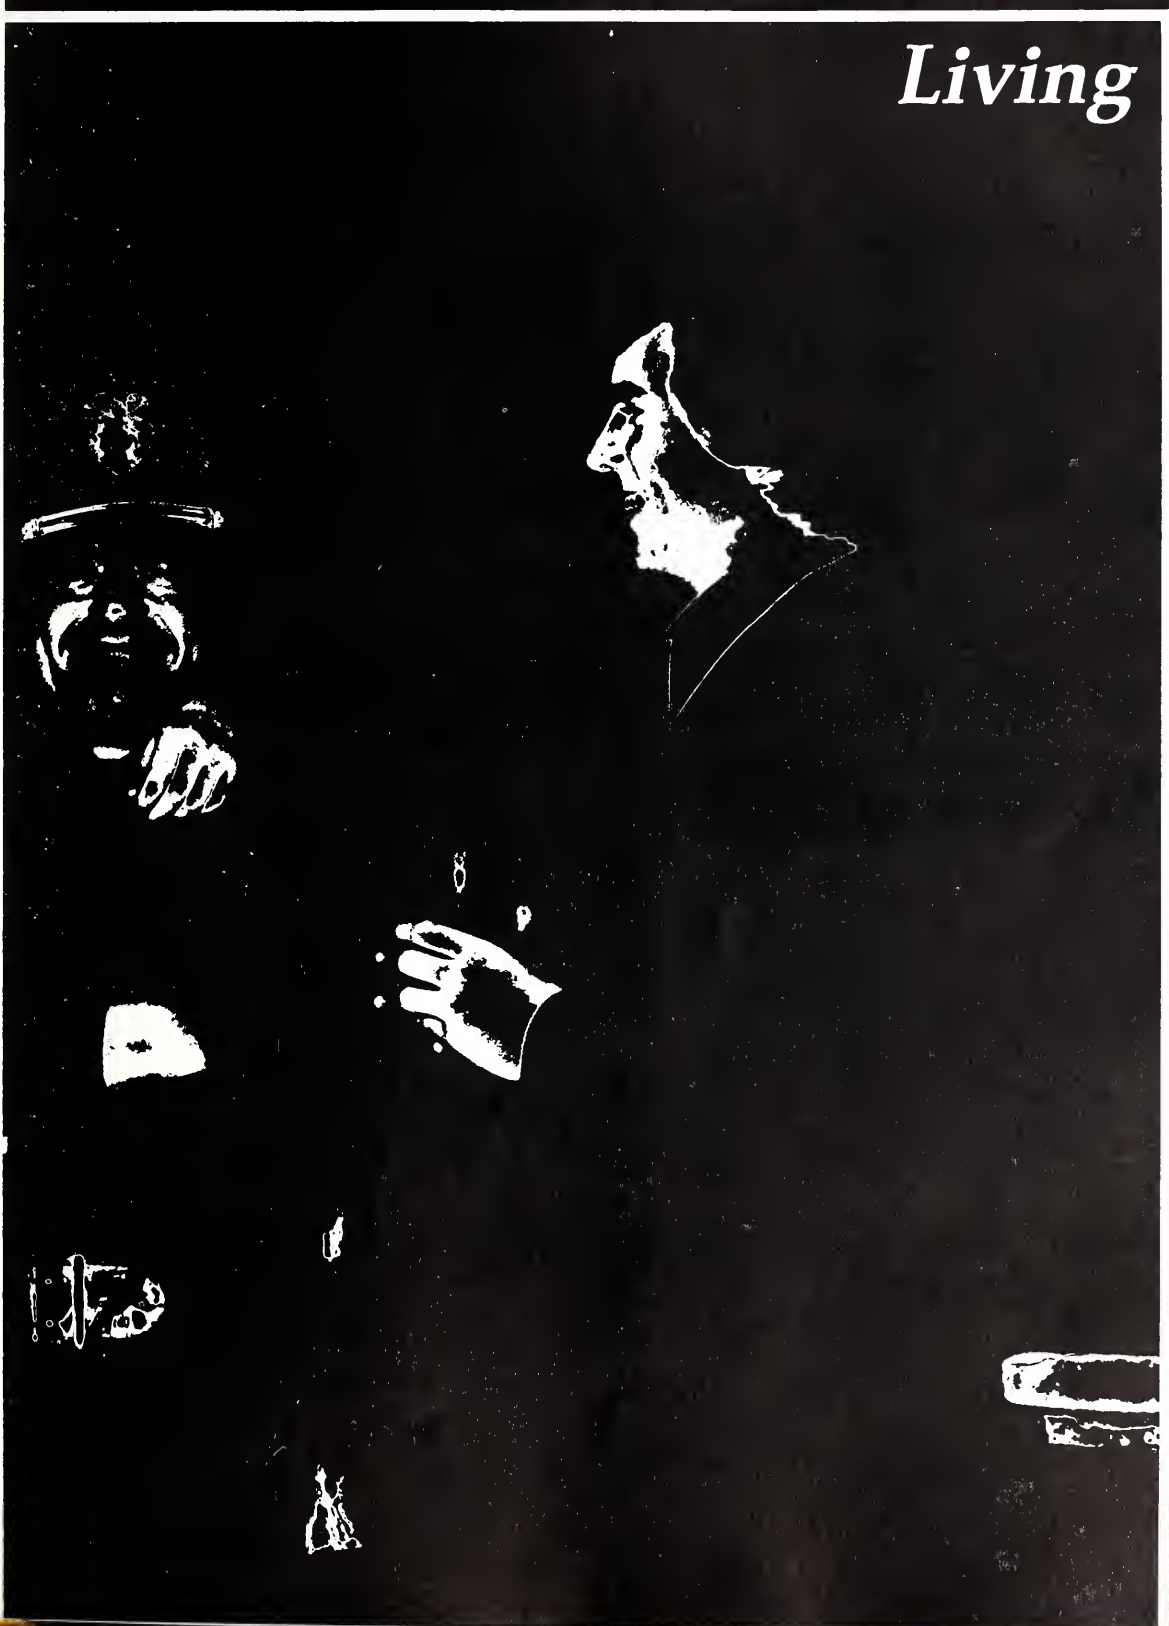

Wandering through valleys and hills. Stopping to listen—to learn

Experiencing God through nature and ourselves through friends

Wild World Prevails Again

Sunday afternoons again showed the fair sex battling it out on the gridiron. This year had the best showing with 7 teams formed but only 5 living to see the end of the season.

The "high" spirited "Spreadables" were tough under the quarterbacking of Shauna McGuire but were a little too burned out to take the league. The Freshmen made a good showing with their entry "Pink Panthers" under the fatherly direction of Steve Fish. Denver Livestock had the talent and ability but choked in the clutch. The team was led by Susie "Space" Pauly and Eileen "half" Cuddohy. But the big bruiser award goes to that dazzling team, Wild World. No one ever got close to that machine.

The Sport Where Boys Become Men

As the intramural season began, it appeared to most that the No Names would again reign as uncontested champion. But the year did have its hopefuls as the Brothers, Hootch, and KOK all tried to unseat the unbeatables. On the other hand, the freshman teams, as always, provided the biggest mouths and the worst football. The DOA's were "flushed" by the equally hapless Geeks. Although there were a few strong teams, the season was marred with upsets with Kelly's heroes, Brothers, No Names and KOK finally making it under the lights.

The championship game featured the big, bruising, senior team, the No Names against the obvious underdog KOK. To the amazement of the standing room only crowd, KOK dominated every phase of the game from beginning to end. The final score showed 28-16 in favor of KOK, thus eliminating any possibility of of the No Names making the scene with their championship shirts.

. . . The soccer team lost only one senior, Joel Chavez, from its ranks this year because of graduation. Under the coaching of Carl Stumpp, the team made a good showing highlighted by the victory over Colorado University. Co-captains Mark Digman and Kevin McGrath lead the squad and were backed with steady goal-tending from Joel Chavez, Freshmen Brian Walsh and Bill Unland bolstered the offense while Gabby Harnett, Tom Costello and Vince Castellano held down the defense. The kickers should make a strong showing next year with many returning lettermen.

No, coach, we're not going to come back and play.

Hockey Team Wins

This year's Regis Ranger Hockey Team led by the offensive power of "Coach" Mark Hatch, Jim "Killer" Kluding, and John "Rosso" Rossman, the hard hitting defensive duo of Dicky Del Fava and Roy Schappick, and the superlative goaltending of Gary Siegfried, wound up as champions of the Denver Metro League with a 10 and 3 record. Much of the credit must go to the phenomenal goal tending of Junior Gary Siegfried whose overall record of 12 wins and just 2 losses and league leading three shutouts prove this point beyond doubt. Credit must also go to the Regis students without whose constant support of the team might not have fared so well.

Wherever they went, the Regis Swimming Gypsies left their mark. From Gunnison to Alamosa, the familiar chant of "Bring Home the Turkey" was echoed by this traveling band of marauders. Under the leadership of Coach Skip Wrape, the Regis College Swimming Team displayed a unity that was truly unique. The outstanding individual was freshman diver Bill McNichols whose performance always received loud applause from the crowd. The swim team, a young squad, has returning swimmers, Jim Havel, Dan Huerter, Doug Schaeffer, Bob Weigel, Larry Kogoosek, Steve Kelly, Pat Rubey and Bill Lovewell. Hopes are high for a stable swimming program at Regis, for this young team brings it strength and purpose.

Tony That's a NoNo!

Despite the fact that 1973-1974 saw the Basketball Team win only 5 of 20 games and set many infamous records including fewest points scored in a season, lowest seasonal per-game point average, and most losses consecutive or seasonal, the team underwent a metamorphosis that should prove to mark a new era in Regis Basketball. Head Coach Jim Karabetsos proved that integrity and dedication are the only foundations upon which winning can be built.

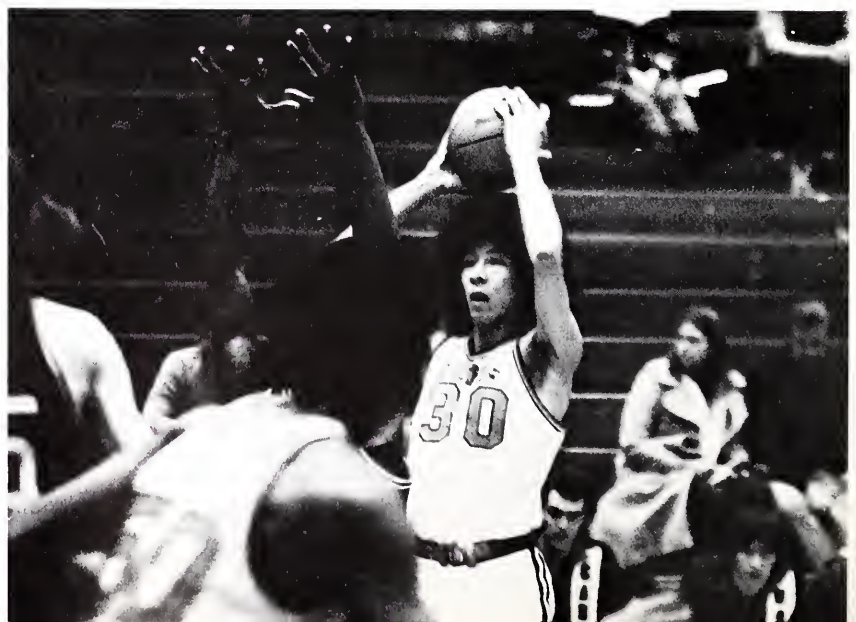

One can be sure that those players returning next year will be ready and willing to play. A Standout on this year's team, Tony DuCros, was an All-American Honorable Mention due in part to his breaking the RMAC rebounding record two years in a row. Tony had 447 rebounds this season with a game high of 26 against the School of Mines. Adding this year's talent to the incredible talent Coach Karabestos has signed for next year, even the most skeptical critic can't hide his enthusiasm.

The Intramural Basketball season was one of many surprises. The No-Names, the big, mean Senior team, led by Mo Richardson, did not even make the playoffs. Bhang, an upstart freshman team compiled a fine record but no one expected that team to go anywhere. Ziegler's Zilches, a very well balanced team, defeated a fine Hootch team to advance to the finals, but it was the talented squad of freshmen, Bhang, led by their captain Dave Spella, who provided the surprise of the season by defeating Ziegler's Zilches for the championship.

Baseball Team Provides Weekend Entertainment

The Regis College Baseball Team

The Baseball Team ended their season after 22 games, with a record of 6 wins and 16 losses. Although not much to write home about, many students can thank the Baseball team for hours of beer filled entertainment. Students and teachers alike have been known to come together, crouching on grassy slopes to join in the communal celebration of the Baseball Team's exploits. What would a sunny spring afternoon have been without Jerry Caruso's acrobatic fielding, fakes, and slides?

All students owe some gratitude to All-Americans Sam Radovich, Jerry Caruso, and John Stroup, all Seniors, for their contributions to the Baseball Team, and to Regis. Let us all wish the Baseball Team much luck for the next season.

Women Softballers Illustrate

Women's I.M. Baseball was short lived due to bad weather and lack of Sundays. However, when the sun did shine so did the girls. Freshmen outdid themselves coming up with 3 teams, "Chics", "Leakers" and "Strikers." "Strikers" came up with the most bewildered team with Lucy Wolf as their leader. Maybe if Luci knew what day it was they would have been better off. Comeback of the year award had to go to the senior team "Last Chance". Vicki Singleton proved with her famous bunting ability that the big hits aren't what wins the game. Team strength seemed to be correlated with being hung over as they chalked up their only two wins the day after prom. "Denver Livestock" finally came up with a winning season. (Maybe because 2 of their 4 games were forfeits.) Trying to overcome their differences, the Juniors regrouped to form the "Tomatoes," with strong slugging Midge Miller and nimble fingered Mary Pat Gauthier. Spreadables finished the season as the only undefeated team as they showed up for every game.

*We reach the top of the Mountain and the road keeps moving,
our dreams keep changing, our lives still rolling
Our horizons souring higher and brighter further away
And our todays somehow become yesterdays.*

Well, I guess this is page 304. Wow! It will take a while for that to soak in. Page 304 is a very special page, not only because it is the last page in this book, but because no other Regis College yearbook has ever had a page 304. If you look closely, you will see several things that no other Regis yearbook has ever had before! When I took the job as Editor, I saw no reason whatsoever, why it couldn't be done, and neither did the largest RANGER Staff this institution has seen. We were probably the second most disorganized group of people on this campus . . . but we did it! We shot for the moon, and I think we came awfully close to it. We made changes, but all for the better. We did things that were never done before, but all with a purpose. We gave you things to remember that will really mean something to you in future years, that have never been seen in the RANGER. We did all of this despite all the hassles we went through to try to convince a few people around here that we really did know what we were doing. We did it without a pencil sharpener from the Regis bookstore, and despite all those who thought that it could not be done. We did it in the midst of more negative attitudes and suspicion than I have ever seen, and here it is! But I would like to remind all of an old Latin adage employed by an editorial colleague of mine, "Illegitimus non est carborundrum," translated which means: "Don't let the bastards grind you down." Needless to say, we didn't! This yearbook has something for everybody from all those hotdog people that kept saying "Tom take my picture!" (which I got sick of), to the convent girls from 3rd floor Carroll. There are more pictures of Faculty and Administration doing things with students than ever before, which is a good indication. There are pictures of events and people doing things that have never been seen in our yearbook. There are things in color that have never been before. As far as the captions go this year, I feel that there is no room for complaints. If you think that any of them are dirty or vulgar, well, get your mind out of the gutter! I think the people that wrote the captions did an excellent job of exercising the discretion of good taste and clean humor. and for this they are to be complimented. There are too many people around Regis that think the Editor does everything all by himself to put out a yearbook (including a few on the staff itself). Well I'll be the first to admit that I did have to do quite a bit by myself, but I had more people on the staff to help out than any editor has ever had around here. They all did a very excellent job, not only of putting up with me throughout the year, but with all of their respective jobs, which are far to numerous to list here. These are 37 of the most fantastic people I have ever had the pleasure of working with, and I mean that sincerely. They all did what I expected of them, and some of them went far beyond. I would like to take this opportunity to thank each and every one of them for the many long and frustrating hours that they put in to help make this come off. Thank you all so very much, I am certainly proud of the work you have done, and I hope you are too. A special thanks goes to those who stuck it out with me till the last deadline. Pete Tynan, Louise Truglio, Judy Capra, and the photographer that will do anything else you ask him to, Andy Martelon, especially Andy who even came out to school to keep me company when it got to the point that I got sick of being in the office alone working into the wee hours of the morning. These people although living here in Denver, still took time to come out and spend hours with me finishing off the book. I would also like to thank my teachers for putting up with my pathetic time schedule this past year, and anybody else who contributed to the production of this book in any way shape or form. It was your interest that helped to make it what it is. I will make no exception to the tradition of saving the most important for the last. An Editor could not ask for a better Assistant than Diane Wolfe. Dedication was her middle name! Dedication despite all of the disorganization, changes, and screaming and yelling we did at each other. Dedication that kept her here for an extra week after Graduation, when she could have left for good, but didn't. Diane had to put up with just about as much mickey mouse as I did at times, and what a job she did. I can't tell you how much I appreciate what you did for me Diane, and if you think it was worth it, then so do I. I hope all of you will enjoy the 1974 RANGER, both now, and in the years to come, and remember that the biggest part of finishing any task, is the initiative that you yourself have. If you all enjoy this yearbook, then the entire Staff and myself will have gotten out of it what we put into it!
